The one I've been recommending most lately is Fire Emblem: Three Houses. It has strong gameplay, good character writing, and an interesting narrative with multiple paths. And they even finally figured out that people who aren't straight exist!

Q7 Would you like to recommend any video games? (Optional)

I can't just recommend video games to you without any idea of what games you'd like or consoles you have! But I guess you're using this just to figure out what we like. In that case, I'd recommend A Dance of Fire and Ice and the upcoming Rhythm Doctor. Both great rhythm games, a genre I noticed you forgot to include in this survey ;). If I assume you own a nintendo switch, I'd recommend Splatoon 2. It's the only shooting game I actually like. Never could get into Overwatch...

Zelda series are so good

Splatoon 2 is so addicting idk about splatoon 1 but probably also interesting bc same game mechanic but less stuff

Sims 4 was a great buy

Indie games: there's "Ib" pronounced eve and that's also nice I liked that one has a pretty big fanbase too especially on Pixiv "Yumenikki" is also good

Q4 Which of these elements do you usually look for when picking a game to play? Check all that apply

Other (if more than one separate with a comma): It depends on the game and what kind of game I want to play. Sometimes I want a good story. Sometimes I want good gameplay. Sometimes I literally don't want gameplay because I'm tired or my hands hurt. Sometimes I don't want story because it's annoying and gets in the way of gameplay. Sometimes I want to replay a game and thus want replayability. Sometimes I want something short and story-based which usually means no replayability. Sometimes I want to relax. Sometimes I want something hard I can actually focus on. I almost never look for multiplayer, and definitely never care about graphics unless it's a purely looking-around-the-world game, like The Endless Forest, or Aer, or Feather.

Q7 Would you like to recommend any video games? (Optional)

I will always recommend Undertale and Morrowind. Mod the fuck out of Morrowind if you don't like it in vanilla. Go to /r/morrowind, they're always friendly and willing to help a newbie out.
